SUMMARY

I am a computer science student majoring in cloud computing at Bennett University, passionate about problem solving, leadership, and technology. As an accomplished student leader, I serve as Head- Outreach and Promotions at the Student Council and Management Head at the GeeksforGeeks Student Chapter, where I leverage my expertise in management and marketing strategies to drive engagement and growth. My technical passion lies in exploring AI-driven solutions, software development, and data-driven decision making to create innovative impact.
